Thunder would be a good opening song other realistic openers

Rollin' And Tumblin'

'Til I Fell In Love With You

Honest With Me

The Levee's Gonna Break

my dream openers for this next tour:

Folsom Prison Blues
Subterranean Homesick Blues
Cold Irons Bound
Everything Is Broken
Dirt Road Blues
Day of the Locusts
Changing of the Guards
Handy Dandy

I always thought Jokerman was a great opener.

I haven't the froggiest idea,
but if things start getting mejor around Rollin' and Tumblin' (according to a Santiago reviewer) then let's start with Rollin and Tumblin'

Anyway, I'm still into the Pulitzer Felicitacion stuff; good try though.

Levee's opened in Philly and NY back in '06. Works better in slot #5 IMO.

Thunder would be a great opener, but it's probably not gonna happen so long as Bob is playing guitar at the beginning of the set.

Remember back in '05 when the openers were To Be Alone With You, Drifter's Escape, Maggie's Farm, and Tombstone Blues, and which one it was always depended on the day of the week? None of those were played last year and only Maggie's and Tombstone Blues the year before...would like to see those make a return, but in the #4 slot or whenever Bob switches to keys.

I'd like to see a Gotta Serve Somebody or Down in the Flood or Silvio opener.

I'd definitely be down for an 05 era Drifters!

Certainly the 2005 openers were a solid bunch! Sadly, the shows rarely arose above the energy hatched from that slot.

I'm down with Drifter's making a comeback.

Serve Somebody should get back into the set somewhere regardless.

Are you serious?

The energy from the 2005 shows is incredible!

well, an energy improvement from fall 2004 (big letdown)...sure...but anything prior to that I am quite serious in my opinion. Not saying it was Bob's personal energy...in fact, I find him in better voice during those Merle shows in April 05 than I do of most of 04 and parts of 03. But when the music/vocals got to a certain level it was kinda stuck there. So, it was the same energy throughout...energy-re-visited.

I look for pretty much the same setlist that he's been doing since MT came out. A Surprise at this point would be Tambourine Man or Tombstone Blues. Let me think real hard--he'll open with RDW.

I hear ya Harding- He did the same with "Love and Theft" two solid years of sets heavy with the current album...then he seemed to pick on another album from the past. During "L&T" it was "New Morning/JWH"...let's hope something along those lines comes true...say..."Planet Waves" or "Saved"?

It's good to see a dose of sanity (critical thinking, if it makes anyone more at ease) make an appearance in this thread.

Keep on keepin' on, raggedclown.

ICQ---spent a lot of time in the hauls of ships...concocting methods at which to excel at this here parlor game. Stay clear when he emerges from smuggled waters with that twinkle in his eye...for he knows more than Baron!

Nice call Bro
