I just bought one at my local Barnes & Noble on sale for $10.00 plus tax. They are giving these things away now!

a mate of mine bought one when it first came out, looked at it once and then gave it to me as a gift.

i looked at it once and put it on the shelf, not touched it since.

I have a copy which my daughter gave me a couple of years ago for my birth day, so I can't part with it. In fact I've grown rather fond of it, partly for sentimental reasons I guess.

She also gave me Visions of Sin which I can't read because the print is too small, but I wouldn't be able to part with this either. I have some bi-focals but I still can't see it. (I am blind in one eye).

But getting back on topic, I bet you can sell that if you keep advertising it.
