
Timing next pool competition

Posted by szaffi - 2008/07/19 15:54

Dear admins,
the next leg of the tour is starting soon, and so - hopefully - will the next run of the pool competition.
May I ask - if possible - to come up with the new list of picks as soon as possible, as picking will have to be done in mid of the holiday season and some people might have problems to get to a computer as frequently as in their homes ?

Thanks in advance
Christian

I agree, and for what it's worth, I think it would be great if all the usual suspect songs could be confined to one or two groups, to help make things a little more interesting. Let's make the high rollers more of a factor.

The monkeys told me...they love the "Usual Suspects". So, much they watched it twice before putting all the common songs into one group!

And on that same token.....no standards in the 20 pt category PLEASE!
Only one-offs or things he hasn't played in at least 5 years
